CHURCH AFFAIRS.

The membership of the 23 churches composing the Tates Creek Association is 20,850, a net gain of 176 during the year.

The Baptist meeting at Somerset, held by Rev. F. D. Hale, closed with 43 additions, many of them from other churches.

The "Sabbath day's journey" of the Jews was 2,000 yards. This was the traditional distance from the end of the ark of the covenant to the end of the wilderness where the Sabbath law was given.

Rev. W. Y. Sheppard preached a fine discourse at Old Fellows Hall, Sunday, from "The harvest is past, the summer is ended and we are not saved." His next appointment is for the 31 Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m., when he will preach at the Methodist church.

Rev. Ben Helm, having occasion Saturday to use the Bible, which always has a place on the desk of the editor of this paper, and finding that it was worn and disfigured from long and constant service, bought a new one and presented it to him, for which he is very grateful.

Parson Craltree, of Marshall county, who comes of hellephant stock, hid a pistol under his Bible in the pulpit and fired twice at Joe Greer and his son, who were interrupting his sermon and making his position unpleasant by throwing rocks through the window at him.

Rev. R. A. Haden commenced a protracted meeting at the Presbyterian church Sunday, which will continue till further notice, with two services a day, 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Mr. Haden is an earnest and able exponent of the gospel and it is hoped that much good will result from the meetings.

The meeting of the Presbyterian Synod has been changed from October 14th to October 7th and will take place at Greenville. It is composed of all the ministers and one elder from each church in Kentucky, and includes about 300. The opening sermon will be preached by Dr. Witherspoon, of Louisville.

At a revival meeting at Kingston, Ont., and after the preacher had discoursed on the evil effects of wearing corsets, the women, in a frenzy of religious enthusiasm, jerked off theirs and throwing them into a pile set them afire. This may be all well enough for Canada women, but when Kentucky ladies, if ever, discard corsets, we want to emigrate.

Mr. E. B. Caldwell, Jr., clerk of the Cumberland River Association, was here yesterday. The body held its annual session with Eden church, Paducah, last week and was largely attended. There are 17 churches in the Association, and they show a total membership of 2,184, a net increase of 74 over last year. Pleasant Point in this county was chosen for the place of meeting next year and Wednesday before the 1st Sunday in September fixed as the time.

A mail from the cross on which the Savior was crucified has been added to the Holy Coat show at Treves and the rush continues, says a cablegram, but some disappointment is felt that so few miracles are reported. The consumption of beer in Treves last week has been so enormous that on Thursday it was reported that a beer famine might occur, but the arrival of a timely supply on Friday allayed all fears on that subject.

A crowded church greeted Rev. Mark Collis when he arose to discourse on Baptism, Thursday night, and for two hours he held it in rapt attention. The sermon showed deep research and patient investigation, and even more thoroughly convinced the immersionists that theirs is the only scriptural baptism. Unfortunately there were but few Pedobaptists present, for the reason, we suppose, that they are so firmly "set in their ways" that they do not care to hear the subject further discussed.

There was not a Christian in the Fiji Islands 50 years ago. Young girls were fattened like cattle and sold by weight to be roasted and eaten. There are now more than 100 men preparing to preach the gospel. An appeal was made to these students, last year, to evangelize unhealthy Guinea, where some of these brethren had already been sacrificed. Fifteen men were asked for. Forty stood up.—Church at Home and Abroad.

Seventy-five million dollars is contributed yearly in the United States to the sustenance of the church, $31,000,000 more being given to purposes purely devotional. Within the century now drawing to a close 150,000,000 copies of the Bible have been printed in 226 different languages. Fifty years ago there were 502 missionary stations in foreign parts; there are now 5,765. Fifty years ago there were 153 ordained missionaries; to-day there are 6,000 such servants of the Lord. Then there were but 1,266 other laborers and helpers abroad, now there are 40,552. This looks as if Colonel Ingersoll had really lived in vain.—Ex.

SOME FUNNY BUSINESS.

Two Women at the Seashore. Mary—"Are you going to drive this afternoon?" Agnes—"No, I haven't anything to wear." Mary—"Then I shall see you on the beach, I suppose."

Jenks—"Even St. Peter lied." Filkins—"That's all right. What do you expect of a man who stays out till the roosters begin crowing?"—New York Herald.

First Stranger—Traveling for pleasure, sir?

Second stranger—Yes, sir. I am on my way to see the Alps and Europe generally. Traveling for pleasure, yourself?

F. S.—Yes, I am on my way to the United States to see the Rocky Mountains, Niagara Falls and other wonders. Have you seen them?

S. S.—Oh, no; I'm an American, you know.

An enterprising corner in California fined the corpse $30 for carrying concealed weapons, confiscated the pistol from deceased's pocket and took a fee of $25 out of the $75 found on the remains.

Mrs. Grayneck—"Why Johnny, what in the name of the world are you striking Willis for, like that?"

Johnny—"Well, I should think I had good cause."

Mrs. Grayneck—"What do you mean?"

Johnny—"Well, I let him use my bean shooter all last Sunday afternoon if he'd say my prayers for me for a week, and I've just found out that he skipped three days."—Brooklyn Life.

Forty Days.

The rain that produced the flood fell 40 days and 40 nights.

After the rain ceased it was 40 days before Noah opened the ark.

Moses was 40 days in the desert, fasting.

Forty days was the period devoted in ancient times to the embalming of the dead.

The spies spent 40 days investigating Canaan before they gave their report.

Elijah fasted 40 days in the wilderness after he had fled from the anger of Jezebel.

Jonah gave the inhabitants of Nineveh just 40 days in which to consider his prophecies and repent.

Jesus fasted 40 days in the desert, and now we are commemorating the 40 days through which He walked after His resurrection.

Preaching a trial sermon in presence of an audience of only two persons must, in any case, be a trial to one's nerves, but especially so when the two happen to be the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Tait, and Dean Stanley. We read of such an unfortunate young "candidate for priest's orders," so preaching in that rather awful presence. In his confusion he stammered out, as he began, "I will divide my congregation into two—the converted and the unconverted." Dr. Tait interrupted him with, "I think, sir, as there are only two of us, you had better say which is which."

POLITICS AT THE FAIR.

From People Ought to Take Interest in Improving Their Stock.

September is the month in which to assort the chicks. Pick out the best to carry over the winter and breed from next season. Many do not realize the importance of this; but the inferior chicks never pay for the food they consume. The balance of the flock will have more advantages after the culling has been made. More revenue will be gained from the remaining lot than from the entire flock if retained. It is now "fair" times, here and there. Select the best pure-bred poultry and exhibit them at the nearest fair; incite an interest in well-bred poultry, if not already awakened, and show neighboring farmers what you have. If they have not as good it will interest them, and you may sell some stock or take orders for eggs for the coming season, besides the chance for carrying premiums. Next fair season some of the neighbors will enter into competition, and then you will want to maintain your ground with your second exhibit, and have an extra lot of fine birds to show. Farmers should learn the advantages of raising thoroughbred poultry; by studying the exhibitions at fairs he familiarizes himself with good, pure-bred poultry, and can compare it with his common stock, which results in giving the preference to pure stock every time. Thus is laid the foundation and incentive within him to improve his stock. In time he will be found glorying in the possession of as fine a flock of pure-bred fowls as the surrounding country can boast. It is impossible to have too many interested in this matter, and the farmer especially should become familiar with the advantages of breeding and raising pure-bred poultry.—E. M. Brown.

Editor Walton, of the Stanford Interior Journal, has been offered the position of editor of the Knoxville, Tenn., Tribune, one of the coming papers of the South. Col. Walton declines and we are glad of it. His removal from the State would be a loss that Kentucky journalism could ill afford.—Owensboro Messenger.

The Central Kentucky Fair Association, at its recent exhibition, was unusually successful, and the profits will approximate $2,000. E. W. Lee sold Wednesday to Sam and Lee McDowell 200 mountain ewes at $3.75.—Advocate.

Bonnette, the mare that won three out of five heats at Hartford, Conn., in 2:22, 2:24 and 2:27, was sired by Rienz, out of a Garrard Chief mare, Kate Gano, owned by G. C. Lyon, of this county, and is a half brother of Adam Pence's Pence. Mr. Lyon recently sold a daughter of Kate Gano, by Gambetta Wilkes, to Tunis, for $1,050.

A man entered a country store, in which all kinds of supplies could be purchased, and called for a loaf of bread. It was handed to him, but changing his mind and handling it back, he said:

"I'll take a glass of whisky instead."

This poured down his throat he started to go.

"You haven't paid for the whisky," said the storekeeper.

"I gave you the bread for it," was the reply.

"Yes, but you haven't paid for the bread."

"Of course not; you have the bread."

It is a novel plea that a Georgia woman sets up for divorce. She says that when, before marriage, she told her sweetheart she was willing to share his poverty and live on bread and water, he pledged his sacred honor that if she would furnish the bread he would hustle around and get the water. And so they were married; but hardly was the honeymoon ended before the collector came around and cut off the street pipe for the non-payment of the water rate.

The wayward young man, broken in health, has gone to the far southwest to recuperate. He was in jail at Tombstone, Ariz., for stealing a hindquarter of beef. In the loneliness of his cell he sat down and wrote as follows:

"Dear Father: I have picked some flesh since I have been out here, but I am still confined to my room. Please send me $100," etc., etc.—Chicago Tribune.

HUSTONVILLE.

Mrs. Lizzie Gannitz has been successfully directing the domestic departments of the Gannitz Hotel from a sick bed for several days.

Your townsman, S. P. Stagg, who is running a big Casey county farm, was out last week to take another ride on his mowing machine—this time over the pastures cultivating iron weeds and alders.

Mr. J. H. Taylor will succeed Al Burns as custodian of Hustonville's reputation for sobriety and good behavior, and the headlines know Jim too well to monkey with him. Jim carries just that amount of hallast in way of "sand," which will insure his being promptly on hand at the outskirts to turn a cyclone from its proposed disturbance of the order and serenity of our model city.

During the only few minutes' absence of the entire family from the sitting room, a sneak appropriated Mrs. Adelaide Woods' open-faced lady's gold watch a few days since. Not having memorandum of maker or number Mrs. W. can furnish no description beyond above save a broken crystal. It is earnestly hoped that she speedily recover her valuable time piece and add another to the State's servants at Frankfort.

James J. Chelf, of Chelf's Ridge, Casey County, was married to Miss Sarah F. Wilkinson, of Liberty, at her mother's residence, on the 27th ult., Rev. Collins officiating. Jim is one of the most prosperous saw mill operators of our vicinity, a modest, reticent young gentleman, who counts his friends and good wishes by the thousands, all of whom predict that the happiest venture of Miss Sallie's life is this full partnership with Jim.

Hustonville Christian College opened yesterday morning under more favorable auspices than at any period of its prosperous past. Prof. Thompson and wife have devoted almost the entire vacation to remodeling, refurnishing and embellishing buildings and surroundings and are to be warmly congratulated on their ever brightening prospects. Why shouldn't Hustonville become as famed for her college as Oxford, Edinburgh or even Lexington?

Miss Helen Reid has gone to Somerset for a temporary stay. Miss Annie Belden, of Lebanon, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. W. D. Stagg. Miss Dollie Chubb is contributing largely to the cheerfulness of Liberty, her old home, during this gloomy spell. Misses Belle and Lulu Rife left for Lancaster yesterday, where they will attend school. Mr. Joel Conway, of Kansas City, was here last week. Misses Lucy and Mattie Albion left yesterday for Oxford, Ohio, where they will resume their studies. Prof. Newman, of Lexington, presided at the Casey County Institute last week. Your Liberty scribe being one of the oldest and most distinguished educators of his section, will certainly follow his C. O. brother's example and give full details. Miss Minnie Dinwiddie was thrown from a buggy last week and narrowly escaped fatal injuries. She was seriously "bruised up," but will soon be around as cheery as usual. A careless groom started her out without lacking straps. Mr. and Mrs. Dinwiddie returned Saturday from Missouri, where they spent a few weeks with relatives. Arthur Jones left last week for Paris, Texas, his future home. We hope to soon hear that Arthur's merits as a business boy have carried him to the front, with prospects of rapidly taking position with the substantial and influential representatives of his new home. Mrs. Jennie Smith and son, Hugh, returned to Covington last week after a delightful summer outing among relatives in the West.—End. Mr. James P. Rife, an embryonic M. D., accompanied his cousins, Mrs. Smith and son, to the cities on our northern border. Miss Sallie Goode is back from Lexington after a month's visit. Mrs. M. W. Owens and Miss Belle Cook have returned from the Falls and the hotel has been closed for this season. We congratulate the owner and managers on a profitable and unusually pleasant season. James Harper got back from Adair last week with a drove of nice cattle and Jennets. Jim is hard to down as an all around judge of stock.

Editor W. P. Walton, of the Interior Journal, was offered a salary of $1,800 a year to take charge of the Knoxville Tribune, the leading democratic daily of that city, but refused the offer. There are not many country editors who receive such offers, and fewer who decline. Bro. Walton has a better job at home.—Falmouth Democrat.

It is noted that one man was killed and six wounded in a row over the apportionment of a watermelon in Illinois. This is bad, but hardly up to the riot over the Rhine at Cincinnati.

Of the 45,058 convicts in the United States, 2,436 are serving life terms.

Grasslands.

Mr. M. L. Hare, of Indianapolis, owner of the above farm, writes: "I have tried all the different remedies advertised for removing cures, splints and bums. I feel like paying that Quinn's Ointment is by far the best I have ever used."

W. P. WALTON.

The opponents of the new constitution were not able to defeat that crazy quilt of statutory experiments, but their labors were not entirely in vain. Every one of the glaring inconsistencies and grammatical inaccuracies to which attention was called during the campaign are being corrected by the revisory committee and as far as it is possible some sense is being made out of what one member said wasn't respectable nonsense. The trouble is the delegates, flushed with victory are disposed to make too many changes. The people have adopted the instrument as it stands and if a new one is to be substituted there was no necessity for the expense of taking a vote on it. At the instance of President Clay, who does not think Gov. Brown can be trusted with the appointment of a railroad commission, an attempt will be made to make that office elective and instead of permitting the governor to appoint the committee to conform the statutes to the constitution as adopted, a movement is on foot to give the appointment to the convention, increase the number to five and pay the members $13 a day for the work, another evidence of distrust for the governor. If the members are wise they will not permit their desire to run off with their sense, if they have any, and steer clear of radical and unauthorized changes, else they may and doubtless will be made to regret it.

CONGRESSMAN TARNSEY, of Kansas City, is on the right track. He is in favor of cutting down the pension roll fully one-half and force the army of bunnies and paupers, that are enjoying its bounty to go to work. As a rule he thinks the northern democrats in Congress are contemptible cowards or they would not have acquiesced in foisting upon the country this most gigantic and for the most part unnecessary charge upon the people. Mr. Tarnsey is right. Fully half the men who are now living off the government, never lifted a hand to perpetrate it and are in no manner entitled to the bounty of the government. There are fully 60,000,000 other people in this country who are deserving of some consideration and who should not have their money wrested from them to support an army of mendicants fully able to support themselves.

UNDER the impression, that Judge Bole, of Barren, had died from his severe illness, President Clay delivered a feeling eulogy on his character as a man and his performance as a delegate. When he found out that the judge was still a very lively corpse, Mr. Clay felt almost as much like kicking himself as he did when he read his speech in cold type reflecting on the new executive.

FLANAGAN, the Texan, who became famous on account of the question he propounded to a republican convention: "What are we here for except for the office?" has at last reached the summit bonum of his desires. The president has appointed him collector of customs at El Paso, and he is as happy as the small salary connected with the position will admit.

The Pennsylvania democrats nominated a State ticket and adopted a platform as long as the moral law. It relates principally to State issues and the way the republicans are "arraigned and condemned" is a caution. They propose to make a vigorous fight and capture some more offices than the government.

THE Frankfort correspondent predicts that the con. con. will be in session five or six weeks. If the members have any such idea of prolonging their pay the people ought to rise up in their wrath and duck every mother's son of them in the river just at the point the refuse of Craw is emptied into it.

COL. C. E. SEARS has taken charge of the Louisville Post and in a long salutatory tells what the public may expect of him. The colonel is an able and entertaining writer and if he will keep the venomous side of his composition out of sight, he will make the Post a still greater power in the land.

In one of his New England speeches, President Harrison was kind enough to attribute the big crops, which now fill the country, to the "great mercy of God." This must have been a slip of the tongue. The other republican writers and speakers give all the glory to the McKinley bill.

The Newport Journal, which recently blossomed into a daily, has secured Mr. L. J. Blakely to edit it, which means that it is going to jump right to the front rank in the army of journalism. We congratulate the Journal and extend a joyful greeting to its new head.

Ox the recommendation of the best physicians of Saxony, drunkenness has been made a crime in that country. They say the idea of dipsomania is all bosh and declare that men get drunk simply because they want to. That's it exactly.

Ox being twitted with the charge that he helped make a constitution that will involve the State in endless litigation, and as soon as it is adopted moves to Frankfort and opens a law office to reap the harvest, Gov. Knott smiled and said nothing. Of course he said nothing. There was nothing to say but to acknowledge the corn and the governor was too smart for that. There are many other lawyers who are expecting to grow rich in the effort to have the instrument construed.

THE CON. CON.

An L. & N. conductor tells the Louisville Times that he has orders not to honor passes held by the delegates. If this is true there won't be so much running around in the future.

The convention convened Wednesday, but since that time it has been in session but four hours. At the rate it is going Christmas will find the delegates still drawing their pay.

The Constitutional Convention is confirming the truth of the old adage that excess is harder than failure to bear with composure. Pride cometh before a fall, and he that exalteth himself shall be humbled. That 140,000 majority was not an endorsement of junketing on free passes and taking the per diem to defray incidental expenses.—Louisville Times.

It was charged during the campaign that under the new constitution local option laws could not be passed, because of the prohibition of local legislation. The framers hooted at the idea, but, all the same, they see now that the charge was well made and are endeavoring to change the section so as to admit the local prohibition of the liquor traffic where it is desired.

The following is the committee appointed to revise the constitution and take out the grammatical and other inconsistencies: Bronston, Chairman; Beckner, Buckner, Barnum, Rhodes, McElroy, McDermott, Goebel, Kennedy, Mackey, Pettit, Auxier and Washington. As Judge Beckner is said to have written the clause making lawyers over 35 ineligible to the circuit judgeship, his selection, at least, seems to be a bad one.

The L. & N.'s new union depot at 10th and Broadway, Louisville, was formally opened yesterday. The J. M. & I. and the L. N. A. & C. will use it at once and the other roads will follow suit.

John S. Durham, the present Consul General at San Domingo, has been appointed minister at Hayti, to succeed Fred Douglass. He is credited to Kentucky, but no one seems to know him in the State.

A balloon, which was being inflated at Oswego, N. Y., got loose and George Woods, becoming entangled in the rope, was jerked up feet foremost. He finally kicked loose and fell to the ground crushed to a pulp.

The railroads of the country employ 700,000 men. Each year they lose 2,000 of their number in killed, and 20,000 of them are injured annually. It is estimated that 3,000,000 people depend on these employees for a living.

The new city hall of Philadelphia will be the tallest building on the continent, excepting only the Washington monument. It will be two inches more than 347 feet in height and will cover an area of 4½ acres.

A "paater" caught a negro near Tallahassee, Fla., and after mauling him ate a portion of his flesh and made off with his arms in his mouth. The negroes are greatly alarmed and are fleeing from the neighborhood.

S. P. Striker, a mechanical engineer of Buffalo, it is claimed, has discovered a method of making ice with gas and returning the gas to the main unimpaired. He can, it is said, produce a temperature of 80 degrees below zero. No chemicals are used, simply water and gas.

A couple of Chattanooga young men usually known as "blobs," have been arrested and fined $25 each for standing on the streets and making insulting remarks about young ladies who were passing. A few cowbills well applied would have been a more suitable punishment.

R. M. Humphrey, general Superintendent of the Colored Farmers' Alliance and Cotton Pickers' League, has ordered all the members out on September 12 unless they get $1 per 100 pounds of cotton picked and their board. He claims to have 600,000 members pledged to obey his order.

Gen. T. M. Harris, of West Virginia, a member of the court marshal that investigated the assassination of President Lincoln and condemned Mrs. Surrat, is has just finished a history of the affair, compiled from the stenographic notes of which he had possession. In the book he alleges that Jefferson Davis and certain members of his cabinet were interested in and encouraged Lincoln's assassination.

Editor Shepard, of the New York Mail and Express, has engaged rooms for six months at the Auditorium Hotel, Chicago, for himself and friends during the world's fair. He guarantees to pay for this comfort $25,000, or $128.72 a day, or $5.78 an hour, or 96 cents for every minute of the six months. There are not very many editors who could afford this and shep couldn't if he hadn't married a Vanderbilt.

In the Lower House of the Tennessee Legislature a resolution was adopted declaring the General Assembly powerless to abrogate the present lease of the State's convicts. A resolution to investigate the conduct of Labor Commissioner Ford and his assistant, created a sensation. It charged that they had abetted the miners and encouraged lawlessness. The resolution was adopted and the investigation will be made at once.

The hanging of Louis Bulling, at Savannah, Mo., for the murder of his wife, presented a hideous spectacle. Bulling begged the sheriff to postpone the execution to the last moment permitted by the sentence and just before it was to expire he shot himself twice in the breast with a pistol, supposed to have been furnished him by a priest. His wounds did not cause him to lose consciousness or delay the hanging. He was taken to the gallows bloody from head to foot and the rope adjusted by main strength, while he cursed and fought his executioners and blasphemed in a most horrible manner.

Gen'l Geo. W. Morgan's Command, the Seventh Division, Army of the Ohio, will hold a reunion at Middleboro and Cumberland Gap, September 16, 17, 18 and 19, 1891. All ex Union and ex-Confederate soldiers are invited to be present.

Another Gentle Bull.

Mr. Thomas, of South Hinchinson, Kan., is another victim to the viciousness of a pure-bred Jersey bull. As usual the bull was "as docile as a kitten." Mr. Thomas had been in the habit of petting the animal and leading him around. He went out to change the picketpin to which the bull was tied when without a moment's warning the Jersey charged on his victim, and catching Mr. Thomas on his horns tossed him fully twenty feet in the air. As soon as Mr. Thomas fell to the ground the bull savagely attacked him again with his sharp horns and stamped him with his forefeet. The victim struggled up finally and got out of the infuriated animal's way, but he was in a terrible condition, and his suffering was so great that it was necessary to keep him under the influence of morphine. It is very doubtful if he will ever recover. Beware of the "gentle" Jersey bull. The cows are indeed gentle, but the bulls are vicious and should never be trusted for an instant.—Field and Farm.

Disbarring Full Grown Bulls.

We notice that there is quite a strong tendency among certain breeders to disbar a valuable bull in case he gets cross. The advice of The Dairyman is to take greater precautions, but not disbar. We firmly believe that injury to the breeding power, or propensity of the animal, will be quite apt to follow if he is disbared. The most of those who have advocated disbarring have done so without much study along these lines. Wise breeders of all animals are very careful not to mutilate a valuable sire or in any way to produce an injury to the nervous system. The organs of production are intimately connected with the brain and the brain is the seat and organ of all nervous force. The inference ought to be strong against any mutilation of the head.—Horn's Dairyman.

Points of Interest.

An extensive stock raiser says that not half enough attention is paid to the natural likes and dislikes of animals in mating and breeding them. They have among one another pronounced affinities and repulsions, just as human beings have. This is plainly manifest in cases of birds and is quite as marked in quadrupeds, especially that most intelligent one, the horse. Horses and mares manifest their dislikes by biting and kicking. Colts bred from sires and dams between which there is evident repulsion prove savage and vicious in disposition. This is a matter well worth looking into.

Cold milk and food given to young animals is a frequent cause of scours.

The best time to sell stock is on general principles when prices are best.

Remember that if you are a decent poultry raiser you will clean your chicken house thoroughly once a week.

STANFORD demonstrated last week that she is a one night town and a poor one at that. The Bijou Co. gave very fair performances, yet they didn't get in three nights what they ought to have had in one. The next show that wants to play here more than once won't be permitted to come at all.

SUNDAY'S Cincinnati Enquirer has a sensational account of how Bob Hughes and John Farra killed a snake that they found in the cupola of the court-house in Lancaster, which the dispatch claims is 150 feet high. It was eight feet long and when cut open 16 sparrows flew out, or words to that effect.

THE city council is still resting supinely and waiting for their Philadelphia man, who may be a myth, to come and make them a proposition for the water works. We haven't got any time to lose in the matter if we wish to secure a permanent location of this division of the L. & N. at Harrodsburg and give somebody else a chance to put in the works.

A visitor to Middleboro tells the Covington Post that the bottom has fallen clearly out of the town, so far as business is concerned, that there is nothing doing, and the town is perfectly dead; that all who can are leaving the place; work has stopped on the canal and all town improvements, and the "Town Company" has stopped all its works. The iron and steel works will shut down permanently next Saturday. This will be a great loss to the place as it is the largest and finest plant in the United States. Alas and alack, Stanford investors will look upon the good money they deposited there no more forever.

BOKE HIS LEG.—Saturday when Capt. Wm. Geer attempted to jump from the passenger train just before it stopped at the depot here, the heel of his shoe caught on the steps in some way and he was thrown violently against the ties, breaking the small bone of his right leg below the knee. Had it happened on any but the rear coach his life would have perhaps paid the forfeit. The captain had just returned from his run and being in a hurry to get home, he made the jump which will cost him much loss of time and great suffering. He was conveyed to his home, where Dr. Peyton set the bone and he is now doing very well.

THE percentage of dishonest people in this country is very great. We do not mean actual thieves, men who will rob you in darkness and under cover, but those who appropriate your service and your substance with no intention of paying for them. We are more than ever confirmed in this conclusion since sending out dues to the amount of several dollars in postage and receiving hardly enough money in response to pay for the stamps, much less the time of the clerk in writing them. This kind of business doesn't suit us and we have about arrived at the conclusion to do a strictly cash business or none at all. We do not care either for the patronage or the good will of those who neither pay a bill when presented nor ever give an excuse for not doing so.

MR. JOHN BRIDGEMAN, Sr., has a pocket knife that he has been using for 23 years. It is of very fine metal and can be used for shaving purposes, though from Mr. Bridgeman's looks, if it is used at all for that it must be by trial.

BOTH the College and Seminary have adopted the plan of teaching Saturdays and resting Mondays. Yesterday was the first day it was put into practice, when the scholars told us confidentially they did not like the arrangement a bit.

MESSRS. H. S. WITHERS and S. H. Shanks each had 1,000 stock in the Falls City bank at Louisville, bought when it was at a good premium. The directors of the bank at a meeting held Saturday decided not to prosecute the defaulting and absconding Cashier Tillman, counsel having advised that his offense is simply a breach of trust, upon which there was no hope of conviction.

IN its critique of the Chimes of Normandy, which was produced in Paris before a crowded house, which included Gov. Brown and other distinguished gentlemen, the Kentuckian says of an I. J. composer. Charles D. Webb, the inimitable, the only, was funny, very funny. There is not another person in Paris who could step into his shoes in the character of "The Ballie." As a singer "Serul" is "not in it," and as a dancer a cow could give him pointers, but there is just where the chief charm of his part lay, and his every entrance on the stage was a signal for a burst of laughter.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Squire Benzley, of Aberdeen, O., married a runaway couple in August, seven of them on the last Sunday.

—Miss Mary, daughter of Minister Robert T. Lincoln, was married in London last week to C. B. Isham, of Chicago.

—Judge Tarvin, the strong-lunged Covingtonian, whose advocacy of Cleveland in the last State convention will be remembered by all present, is shortly to marry an Owen lady. He courted her ten years ago, but she married another man. Her husband since died and Judge Tarvin began his suit again. This time he was successful and the wedding is to come off next month.

—The Holmes camp meeting at Kirtawa has closed after a three-weeks' existence. About 100 converts were made and a deed of sanctification was dispensed.

—The 1st Sunday in October will be observed by all Christian churches as Kentucky mission day; all pastors are expected to preach on that subject that day, and take a collection for speech evangelistic work throughout the destitute portions of the Commonwealth.

—Eli Lucas, William Bellmeyer and William Johnson, all negro prisoners in the Frankfort penitentiary, sent from Louisville, engaged in an all-day Sunday. Bellmeyer was cut in the abdomen, Johnson's skull was cracked, and Lucas was kicked and stamped out of shape. It is thought all three will die.

Twenty pounds of sugar for $1 is a good thing. It is much better than 14 pounds for $1.

If six pounds of sugar is a good thing, more salt, more plows, more clothing, more glassware, more hardware and more kitchen furniture, more of the necessities of life for $1 would certainly be a good thing—if not better.

Six additional pounds of sugar have been given to the laboring man by taking off the tax on sugar.

Why is it that more of the other named goods could not be purchased for $1 if the tax was taken off of them?

The average price of a day's labor is $1. This means 20 pounds of sugar, an increase of six pounds. If all articles were reduced in like manner, $7 a week would equal $10 a week at present. A man working for $25 a month then could live as well as he can now on $40 a month.

Do our laboring men wish to take this means of securing better wages? If so work and vote with the democratic party for reduction on the tariff of the necessities of life.—Nevada Notifier.
